Australian Chrysoprase is a rare, strong and valuable variety of quartz (chalcedony) gemstone. Its colour varies from very pale, apple to a deep rich green. It is often opaque, however the more translucent the better the quality with semi transparent and transparent also highly valued. Good quality Chrysoprase is medium to apple green in colour with the best quality being without inclusions or cavities, it is often mistaken for Jade.

Below are a number of beautiful strands and bracelets which we have had cut from our stock for you to choose from. We have strands of all sizes, if you can't see a size here you would like, please don't hesitate to ask and we will see what we can do for you.
