Subject: Focal Bead OFFER 22 Sep 2011

Folks

Some time ago we sent out an Offer about focal beads to be made into great necklaces. We had some considerable success with that and whilst you mightn't want to spend up to $1,000 on one single bead we have others for as little as $30 which no doubt you can well afford. $30 is hardly worth getting set with gold but it could be done in silver inexpensively and you may have something that was very unique. When you look at other women I don't think you'll see one in the next 12 months who is wearing a single opal bead as a necklace. We have found that with the pictures of Kirsty wearing her bead they have been very popular providing inspiration for a number of progressive women and we are hoping they will do the same for you.

Regards

Murray
