Subject: Lightning Ridge matching earrings & ring stone OFFER 29 Apr 2011

Folks

On 7 April we sent out some Lightning Ridge rubbed opals from which we had quite a successful promotion. From the same parcel a stone that we sold to a lady for only $985 which we had cut for her, it cut over 52ct stone, the cutter put a value of $3,000 on it. Now whenever you cut one of our stones we would expect you to double your money but that was an exception. We also made matching earrings and a ring.

Whilst we cut those opals for our client we also sent three other stones to be cut. We have a pair of earrings here which we offer you for only $250, they are from Lightning Ridge they weigh 8.41cts and are approximately 12mm x 11mm. The third stone we had cut would make a nice ring stone to match the earrings, it is 2.98cts 11.5mm x 9.5mm and to make a lovely matching set for only $375.

1-2. $125 IMG_7898 Lightning Ridge ring stone 11.5mm x 9.5mm 2.98cts
3-4. $250 pair IMG_7908 Lightning Ridge 12mm x 11mm 8.41cts

3. $250 pair IMG_7908 Lightning Ridge 12mm x 11mm 8.41cts

4. $250 pair IMG_7912 Lightning Ridge 12mm x 11mm 8.41cts

I send you also five Rubs that I know will cut into beautiful opals worth much more than the mere pittance we are asking for them. The Lightning Ridge gem for only $225 is a bargain, we could cut a nice shaped stone out of that for you, you might even get another very small one as a second stone. I absolutely love the double sided Lightning Ridge black 24.29cts for only $285, there is a magnificent ring stone on the top and probably another interesting smaller stone on the back. For a man's ring the rectangular piece of black gem 15mm x 12mm 10.65cts for only $265 is a good deal. I can't speak too highly of the huge 43.25ct Rub that we are offering for only $175, it could be a picture stone or looks like the sea with people actually swimming in it, it could be cut into regular opals.

What we are really offering today is the cut matching set of earrings and a ring stone but I point out to you the possibilities of these other Rubs, you could either cut them yourself or we could have them cut for you.

We do have other Rubs that we haven't taken pictures of yet, so if you have any special requirement you would like we have the beautiful rich blues, greens on black for you.

Please let's hear from you.

Regards

Murray
