Subject: Loose Bead OFFER 13 Sep 2012

Hi Folks

Theres' really not a lot for me to say about loose beads. You are the ones that use them and you know what you have in mind. I'll just highlight a few packets that I consider to be top of the shelf and indeed particularly good value.

The Mintubi stones for $412 will have two 10mm rounds to make earrings and an 11mm round that would make a nice focal bead, they are particularly good value.

I absolutely love the Boulder bead for $315. We have another one similar for $295. Seldom do we ever see such wide bars of opal in between the two layers of ironstone. Such stones are normally cut into solid opals rather than preserved as beads.

The Coober Pedy Super Gem for $972 comes from the same parcel of opal that the younger women in our family have all been given. At the bottom take a look at Kirsty and her focal bead, it's magnificent.

The Lambina Green with some Gold rectangular stones for only $314 would make beautiful earrings, that's a most unusual shape.

The pair of Mintubi 9mm rounds for only $199.50 again would make good earrings.

The Coober Pedy Dark 14mm round for $1,124 again is a focal bead from the Kirsty parcel.

There are two Lambina matching stones, one 11mm and one 15mm round for only $212, they are huge stones with very bright blue green for such little money.

For the first time I think we have some Boulder rondels for only $2/ct, some of them have some matrix flashes of reds and greens, that's particularly good value.

I see some Chrysoprase rondels also snuck into this Offer, they are unique, they have some beautiful individual markings and for only $2/ct again we offer you great value.

Enjoy our Offer. We look forward to being of service to you once again.

Regards

Murray
