Subject: Mintubi Gem OFFER 14 Feb 2012

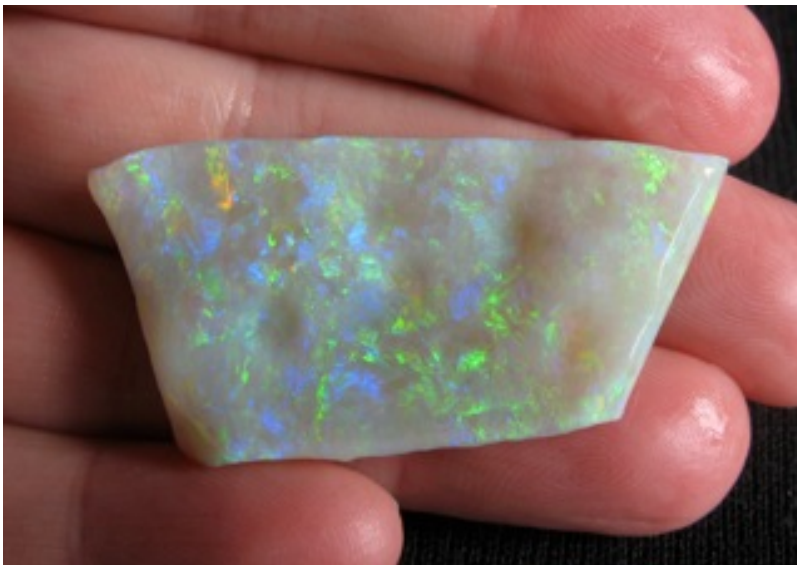

Today

We have a magnificent piece of Mintubi opal to offer you. We have faced it off, polished the top and had a cutter minimise the waste by using a dremel on the face. This piece at its longest point is 45mm one side and 32mm on the other side. It averages approximately 22mm in width and is between 5-7mm thick. This stone still has the sandstone on the back, it weighs 46.46cts now that's a funny number, it is worth a minimum of $2,800 which is only $60.26/ct. We offer it to you today for only $2,300. This is a genuine offer, a magnificent piece of opal. You don't have to do anything to this piece before you set it if you don't want to. We could have it set for you in 18ct gold at very special price of only $625 or even less if you wanted you could leave the sandstone which is a very thin layer on the back. I'd say that this is the stone that you've always wanted your wife to wear. She'll wear it, you'll look at it and think how smart am I to have such a lovely wife and to be able to give her this magnificent stone for only $49.50/ct. This is really $200/ct opal.

First in best dressed.

Regards

Murray
