Below is a collection of Len Cram's series of opal books "A Journey with Colour". Many years ago a copy of the Queensland book sold for $3,000, I believe the price has since doubled.

These books do not belong to Australian Opal Mines but to one of our clients. The books are in mint condition and our client has asked us to offer it to our clients for the most reasonable price of only $6,000US. I don't believe if you search the internet, which you no doubt will, find another complete collection of Len Cram's work for a mere $6,000. Our client has reached his senior years and is worried that should the books become part of his estate that his descendants will not appreciate their true value. So here is a wonderful opportunity before you to have a genuine collector's item.

Len Cram does not reprint his books. I have all that he had left over from his promotion of the special collection edition "A History of South Australia 1840-2005". I have a letter from Len confirming that he will not reprint so your investment is protected as is mine.

I look forward to hearing from you.

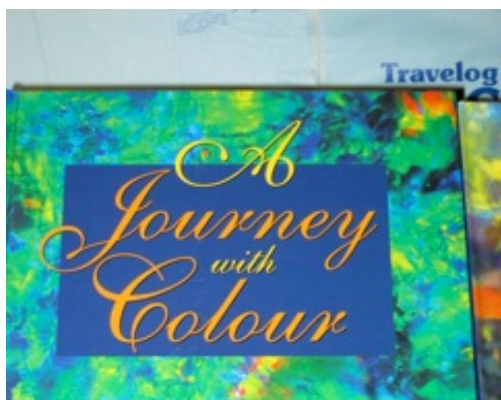

Regards

Murray
